Lane will also leave Sunday for Raleigh, N. C., where Secretary Lane will

Society of North Carolina.

Mrs. Flagg, wife of Col. Clement A.
F. Flagg, entertained at a bridge party this afternoon in compliment to her house guest, Mrs. Andrews, wife of Capt. Charles F. Andrews, U. S. A.

The guests included Mrs. Miles, Mrs.
Stone, Mrs. Welker, Mrs. Ansell, Miss Clay, Mrs. William P. Woodson and Mrs.

The marriage of Miss Nina Knox Van Arsdale and Mr. Vernon Eskridge West took place last evening at 8 o'clock at the residence of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. William Salsbury Knox, on New Hampshire avenue.

Only the relatives and a few intimate friends witnessed the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. Dr. C. Ernest Smith, rector of St. Thomas' Episcopal Church.

The house was beautifully decorated with white chrysanthemums, and the drawing room, where the ceremony was performed, was a hovel of palms and ferns. The white satin prie diu on which the bride and bridegroom kneelt to receive the benediction was flanked with tall standards filled with white chrysanthemums, to which were attached the broad white satin ribbons outlining an aisle.

An orchestra hidden behind a screen of palms played the wedding march and gave a program of selections during the reception which followed.

The lovely young bride entered with her uncle, Mr. Knox, who gave her in marriage. She wore a gown of white satin raised at the sides to show an underskirt of silver lace. Panels of suzette crepe heavily embroidered in silver showed at the back and front.

The bride was of silver lace with angel sleeves of silver embroidered crepe. She wore a court train of satin falling from the shoulders and her tulle veil was corded and held in cap fashion with a spray of orange blossoms. A shower of lilies of the valley was carried.

Mrs. Harry Smith Berry of Nashville, Tenn., cousin of the bride, was the matron of honor. She looked very handsome in her gown of changeable pink and yellow chiffon tulle. The bouffant skirt was edged with a deep fall of gold lace, and the pointed overskirt of tulle was full of gold lace.
The sides with cascades lined with cloth of gold.

A short tunic of yellow tulle over pink tulle reached to the hips. The bodice was of gold lace and yellow tulle threaded with tiny yellow rosebuds. She carried an old-fashioned bouquet in a lace holder of Lady Hill-ington roses, Palma violets and lilies of the valley. Miss Marion West, sister of the bridegroom, was the maid of honor, and she wore a charming gown of rose pink tulle with a full skirt made of two deep flounces scalloped and corded, and the bodice of tulle and cream lace.

She also carried an old-fashioned bouquet of Lady Hillington roses, violets and valley lilies, in a lace holder.

Miss Katherine Berry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Smith Berry, and Miss Betty Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orville B. Brown, the bridegroom's sisters, wore the little flower girls, and they wore dainty short-waisted dresses of organza and lace, with tiny puff sleeves. The dresses had petal over-dresses of lace, finished at the back with a single sash end of white brocaded satin ribbon. They carried gold baskets filled with yellow and pink roses and lilies of the valley.

Mr. Ralph De Shields Quinter acted as best man.

A representative gathering from resident and official society was present at the reception which followed. Mrs.
Knox, the bride's aunt, assisted in receiving, wearing an elegant gown of green chrysanthemum combined with gold cloth and trimmed with pink tulle and gold fringe.
